United States Colonial

- 1 - New Jersey. St. Patrick Farthing. Struck in England ca. 1650 and brought to the colonies by Mark Newby in 1681. VG/G. ($80)
- 2 - American Plantation Token. ND. Struck in tin, 1/24 Real. Newman variety 5-E. These are the dies used to issue the restrikes of 1828. Eric Newman says, "At least three-fourths of all 1/24 Real pieces in collections are restrikes of combination 5-E." (ANS Museum Notes XI, p. 330). This piece close to Fine, several rough spots on reverse. ($150+)
- 3 - Wood's Hibernia Halfpenny, 1722. Type II reverse. 11 harpstrings. Nice VF with a few minor weaknesses and abrasions and small dark spots. ($80)
- 4 - —. 1723/2. The more common of the two known overdate varieties. The overdate, however, is scarce as a type. VG, central portions weakly struck. Details of overdate clear. ($50)
- * 5 - 1766 Pitt Halfpenny. Nice Fine but patches of rough pitting on obverse and reverse, small edge defect. ($350+)
- 6 - French Colonies in N.A. Sou Marque, 1739-A (Paris Mint). The most common date/mint combination. Billon issue. VG. ($35)
- * 7 - Nova Constellatio Copper, 1783. Pointed rays; Rx: Large U.S.A. VF. ($150)
- 8 - Massachusetts Half Cent, 1787. RR-2A (R-3). "J.C. Coombs" neatly counter-stamped in obverse field. Coin VG or slightly better. c/s VF. Provenance of c/s unknown to us. ($60+)
- 9 - Connecticut Copper, 1787. Miller 33.28-Z.16. R-3. VG. Legends and date full but weak in spots. ($30)
- * 10 - Vermont, 1786. VERMONTENSIVM. A good example of a usually poorly struck variety. Once cleaned, about Fine. ($350)

- 11 - 1796 Castorland Medal. Toned Proof. Appears to be 19th Century restrike in bronze. Different dies from those used to strike originals. Also, originals were struck on much thicker red copper planchets (not bronze). Plain edge (all copper originals were made with reeded edge). ($60)
- 12 - Washington 1795 Grate Halfpenny Token. The very scarce small buttons variety. Diagonally reeded edge. F-VF with typical striking weakness on head and corresponding area of reverse. ($125)

Have Gavel – Will Travel

We are opening our 1982 auction season with this sale. Originally we had intended to hold the auction a bit earlier in the month, but the late arrival of a large consignment of U.S. coins led to the delay.

We have included a large section for Mail Bid Only beginning with lot 1200. The type of material in this section typically sells to mail bidders. Some of it is modestly priced and others have considerable appeal to specialists internationally.

Our auction will be held at a new location. This is the Americana Inn (formerly the Albert Pick Motor Hotel) which is located at the junction of Grand River Ave. and Saginaw (Temporary I-69) in East Lansing, a few blocks from our office. We are pleased that we will again be able to have a buffet luncheon for our floor bidders preceding the first session.

Our next sale is scheduled for March 18th at the Ramada O'Hare Inn adjacent to O'Hare International Airport in Chicago. This is the day prior to the Chicago International Coin Fair. Featured in this sale will be Ancients, World Medals including Reformation Medals, Annamese, British, Canadian, Chinese, French, German, Italian and U.S. coins.

We are planning to publish a fixed price list of Goetz medals shortly. This list will be sent to everyone who bid on Goetz medals in the past and will be available upon request to anyone else who is interested.

In closing, I would like to pass on a few observations about the current coin market. There has been a rash of new auction firms in North America. Most of these are subsidiaries of established dealers looking for a new marketing tool for their own material. We wish them luck and advise our bidders to participate in their sales but with some discretion. It is not uncommon for new auction firms to have the majority of their lots sell at very modest prices due to lack of sufficient bids and established reputations. However, make sure you have a return privilege. Few coins truly are available in pristine condition. Some firms lot descriptions tend to overlook rim nicks and other damage or repair which is important to mail bidders. Several of these firms may end up becoming highly respectable auction houses in the coming years. I welcome their entry into the business and hope they will apply strict standards to their cataloging and descriptions. I view my own firm as service oriented. Virtually all the material in our catalogs is consigned with usually more than one hundred consignors represented in each sale. We are a numismatic auction service first and a coin dealer second.

I have noticed the expected decline of investment and bullion oriented firms. Many of their sales staff have been laid off. The market place has once again focused on the collector. Firms which serve the collector market are reporting good business but with some adjustment in prices due to less speculation. Nevertheless, new records are still being made at auction for truly rare and unusual material. Dealers at the recent New York International Convention were pleasantly surprised with healthy sales. The coin market is a "free market" in a true sense with prices basically determined by supply and demand. The smaller firm can survive cycles in demand much easier than the overextended large firm possibly trying to create their own market.
